NEW YORK'S Amish Trail

AmishTrail.com

A Simpler Way of Life

Welcome to New York's Amish Trail

Nestled in Cattaraugus County, the Enchanted Mountains, behind the hustle and bustle of today's world sits the NY Amish Trail.

A trip to Amish Country is like a step back in time, where the unhurried clip-clop of horsedrawn buggies on back country roads is a common sight and sound, where handmade quilts hang drying in the summer breeze and children walk down the road to the little one-room schoolhouse.

It's a place where you can go to take a break from the fast-paced world you live in. Here things move slower and life is simpler.

How to go on your own

Create your own itinerary by using the search and filter features available on the online interactive map at AmishTrail.com/Map.

There is also a tear out map in this brochure to use which lists the places on pages 4-9 and 12-15. Each number on the map will correspond with a number in the legend.

Personalized Tours

A qualified guide will ride along in your vehicle and give you a personalized tour of the NY Amish Trail. They will answer questions and help you understand the Amish way of life. Each tour is unique and designed to cover what you may be looking for.

Tour Reservations are offered through the Leon Historical Society Museum by calling:

- Pat Bromley 716-296-5709
- Klayton Peterson 716-574-9883

For more information about tours please visit AmishTrail.com/Tour.

Who are the Amish?

The Amish adhere to a Christian faith and belief system that values community, unity, family, faith, and hard work. The Amish in our area are Old Order, a very conservative and traditional community living without electricity, phones, cars and other modern conveniences.

Most commonly recognized by their plain dress, horse and buggy transportation, and old fashioned farming practices, the Amish live an intentional lifestyle that separates them from the modern world and is centered around their families and community. They make a living from farming and handcrafting products for sale.

The Amish View of Community:

- Everyone in the community is accountable to God.
- The virtue of humility is shown through respect for God and others.
- All persons are worthy of dignity and respect.
- Communities are made stronger when individuals do not use personal desire as their supreme criteria for making decisions.
- Traditions are more important than progress.
- Accumulated wisdom is better than an individual's ideas.
- Authority in all of its various forms is to be obeyed. Ministers submit to bishops, members to leaders, wives to husbands, children to parents, students to teachers, younger to elder, and so on.

Leadership:

Amish church leadership includes three positions: Bishop, Minister, and Deacon. These leaders serve at the District Level, which is where the ultimate authority lies within the Amish Faith. They work individually and together to guide the actions of their District. The Bishop is the Primary Spiritual Leader, the Minister is under the Bishop, and the Deacon performs duties.

What Language do the Amish Speak?

A common misconception about Pennsylvania Dutch is that it is a variant of the Dutch Language. This is not true. The German is Deutsch, which sounds a lot like Dutch, and one theory holds that over the years, the term for Pennsylvania German, or Pennsylvania Deutsch began to be pronounced Pennsylvania Dutch.

Schooling:

Amish children attend school in a one room school house. They are large enough for 25-30 children of various grade levels. They start school at 6 years-old in the 1st grade and go until 8th grade.

What do the Amish Make and Sell?

They produce a variety of goods including quilts, rugs, baked goods, candy, furniture, toys, baskets, eggs, homegrown fruits & vegetables, jams, woodworking, leather, lumber, iron works and more.

Where are the Amish Shops?

The Amish sell their products from their homes—the Amish Trail map will help you locate their businesses. Look for a sign in their front yard and an open sign to direct you. You will not find any large Amish stores or commercialized Amish shopping areas or attractions. Their shops can be in their homes, attached to their homes, or in a separate building next to their homes. Rural, small town, personal and friendly is what characterizes this area.

Amish Shops Hours

Amish Shops are closed every Sunday, Saints Day (Nov. 1), Ascension Day, Good Friday, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. Shops may also be closed for various reasons such as a wedding, funeral, or family obligation.

What else is in the area?

In addition to the Amish shops, there are many “English businesses” that offer dining, accommodations, shopping, and entertainment.. Check out the Amish Trail map to see where they are located along the NY’s Amish Trail.

What else do I need to know?

- Amish do not accept credit cards.
- Slow down and drive with caution near horse and buggies.
- Do not take photos of the Amish. It is against their beliefs. Photos of buildings and scenery are allowed.
- Respect their privacy and personal property.
